ABOUT THE AUTHOR

MARIO A. GARCIA

From humble beginnings this author was motivated to serve in whatever simple means possible he can. Bookwriting became a passion to deliver messages to those who are willing to learn.

Learning is a continuous process, this saying becomes the foundation of this author's advocacy. Stop learning and life will be equally meaningless and without direction.

This author is a humble servant at the Kalinga State University serving as faculty and designated as the Dean to the College of Criminal Justice Education of the same school. He is a long-time member of the Federation of Authors of Criminology and Criminal Justice, Inc. (FACCI) and serving as the Director for Research and Publication of the FACCI research journal. He is optimistic that with the help of everyone, this Criminological Journal in the Philippines will find its way for the recognition of CHED and to be indexed with other international journal.

Since April 2018 to February 2019, we were able to hold three (3) consecutive national research forums which leads to the fulfillment of a series of the FACCI research journal publication. This publication will now fill the gap in the CHED requirement of criminological journal and opens the door for academic research forum where researchers from all related disciplines come together and present their research manuscripts. It also provides an avenue for exposure to those who have no experience in research presentation. It also becomes the gateway for those who already presented their manuscripts to be accepted for presentation in international forums.

With God's blessing, may this humble author will have a longer life so he can serve those who are still in need of his services. The authors motto in life is "unconditional service is the only way he can pay his debt of life from thy Father". Let us find fulfillment of life in service to those who need our services. But let us remember, we are all given different ways and capabilities to serve. So in whatever menial way of serving, let us do it without any reservation, for this is a genuine way of service.
