ABSTRACT

DAVID, VERONICA V. Self-Esteem, Self-Concept and Emotional Maturity of Abused Female Adolescents in Bahay Tuluyan ng mga Bata in Dasmariñas City, Cavite. Undergraduate Thesis. Bachelor of Science in Psychology. Cavite State University, Indang, Cavite. April 2013. Thesis Adviser: Mary Joyce B. Eyaya.

A study was conducted to provide information about the self-esteem, self-concept and emotional maturity of abused female adolescents in “Bahay Tuluyan ng mga Bata” in Dasmariñas City, Cavite. Three (3) tests were administered; Rosenberg Self-esteem scale, Self-concept Rating scale and Emotional maturity scale. Frequency, mean ranges and percentage were used in presenting the level of self-esteem, level of self-concept and emotional maturity level. Spearman Rho was employed in establishing the relationships among the three variables; self-esteem and self-concept, self-esteem and emotional maturity and self-concept and emotional maturity.

The results revealed that the participants’ level of self-esteem and self-concept were high, while their emotional maturity were low. This means that they are individuals who do their best in whatever they do, have positive self-concept but they are having difficulty in identifying what they feel and uneasy with sharing their emotions with other people.
