ABOUT THE MODULE

A Course Module for Personhood Education: Curriculum, Pedagogy, and Assessment underscores the curricular, pedagogical, and assessment areas of Personhood Education. It introduces the readers into the dynamics of moral values development by looking at the curricular programs, changes, and issues in teaching Personhood Education in the country. The pedagogical aspect presents the various teaching strategies and learning experiences that are helpful in the execution of the teaching-learning processes. Assessment methods and examples serve as a guide for classroom evaluation. Through this module, the readers will be able to appreciate the relevance of personhood in the overall landscape of Philippine education.

ABOUT THE AUTHORS

Mark Anthony V. Bercando is currently the supervising education program specialist in charge of Edukasyon sa Pagpapakatao, Homeroom Guidance Program, and Work Immersion at the Department of Education Central Office. He published books and magazine journals for basic education students like Values Education magazine journals, health component of MAPEH junior high school, and career modules to name a few. Before joining the government service, he served as the university head of the Guidance and Counseling Office and a faculty member of the University of Perpetual Help-Molino Campus. He was also a school counselor of De La Salle Zobel School in Alabang. He is a licensed professional teacher in Values Education and a registered guidance counselor and psychometrician. Bercando finished his Bachelor of Science in Psychology (Education Stream) and Reading Specialization Diploma at the Philippine Normal University-Manila. He obtained his Master of Arts in Education major in Guidance and Counseling from the University of Perpetual Help-Las Piñas. He is currently finishing his Doctor of Philosophy major in Counseling Psychology at the De La Salle University-Manila. He also serves as counseling ministry head and community counselor of the Light of Jesus Alabang branch, a Catholic charismatic community, as his volunteer work.

Katherine E. del Rosario holds a bachelor's degree in human ecology from the University of the Philippines-Los Baños (UPLB). She is also a graduate of Master of Family Life and Child Development at UP-Diliman. Her specialization is on early childhood psychology, development, and education. She is currently an assistant professor at the Department of Human and Family Development Studies (DHFDS), College of Human Ecology, UPLB, where she handles courses on human development across the lifespan, child psychology, and other related courses. She also conducts talks and trainings on various topics related to the family and children. At present, she is the program head of the recently launched extension of DHFDS: the Families of Children with Exceptionalities (FaCEs) Resource Center.

Clarissa Carmelita Mariano-Ligon, PhD, is an administrator and faculty member of Miriam College. Prior to holding these positions, she was an inclusive teacher and a visiting international faculty member in USA. She also gives talks about education and family and writes for a local magazine.
