ABOUT THE MODULE

Each generation has its own understanding of how Jose Rizal lived and has its own interpretation of his works and writings. In this module, the understanding of the Rizal course was suited for the current generation and why Rizal is still relevant today. It also hopes to regain learners' interest in the works of Rizal by looking at how the state promotes Rizal and how the online world represents and reproduces Rizal's image, story, context, and ideas that are still relevant in today's society. Activities in this module are designed to capitalize on today's technology, especially the Internet, to provide a timely learning experience to the readers. This will enhance not only the learning process but also the appreciation of young leaders of one of the foundations of the Filipino nation.

ABOUT THE AUTHORS

Eugene Raymond P. Crudo is an assistant professor of history from the University of the Philippines (UP)—Los Baños. He earned his bachelor's degree in industrial design and master's degree in history at UP—Diliman. He currently handles courses on Philippine history and Rizal.
