ABOUT THE BOOK

This textbook, Field Study I, was conceptualized to immerse student teachers in actual classroom situations and learning environment where direct observation of teaching and learning focuses on the application of educational theories. It will guide student teachers in developing their level of pedagogical content knowledge (PCK), classroom management skills, and assessment skills to effectively implement the K to 12 basic education curriculum. The lessons and activities were designed to meet the demands and requirements of the new teacher education curriculum following the outcomes-based education paradigm prescribed by the Commission on Higher Education (CHED Memorandum Order Numbers 74, 75, 76, 77, 78, 79, 80, and 82, series of 2017). The contents of this textbook follow carefully the new Philippine Professional Standards for Teachers (PPST).

ABOUT THE AUTHORS

Greg Tabios Pawilen is an associate professor at the College of Human Ecology and at the Graduate School of the University of the Philippines (UP)-Los Baños. He finished his Master of Arts in Education and Doctor of Philosophy in Education major in Curriculum Studies at UP-Diliman. He also finished his Master of Education in Curriculum Development at the Ehime University in Japan. He received the Academic Excellence Award from the UP College of Education for obtaining the highest general weighted average for his doctorate studies. He also received the prestigious Pi Gamma Mu Award for Academic Excellence in Social Sciences and a member of the Phi Kappa Phi International Honor Society.

Ericson M. Reyes is a seasoned higher education program specialist. He obtained his Bachelor of Secondary Education from Don Mariano Marcos Memorial State University-South La Union. His decade of experience in higher education includes policy and curriculum development for undergraduate and graduate programs in teacher education, including monitoring and evaluation of teacher education programs and projects. He has been involved in numerous teacher education projects such as the Centers of Excellence and Centers of Development Project, the development of the Master Plan for Teacher Education, the development of ICT-Competency Standards for Teachers, and the development of National Research Agenda for Teacher Education.

John Amiel A. Rivera is a faculty member of the College of Education at the Rizal Technological University. He teaches professional education and English specialization courses in college level. He is a licensed professional teacher and a graduate of Master of Arts in English Language Teaching at the Polytechnic University of the Philippines. He also earned his Bachelor of Secondary Education major in English from the same university.

Trixie Marie J. Sison is an educator who has been in the field for almost 30 years now. She is the dean of the College of Education of Miriam College. She graduated as class valedictorian and cum laude with a degree in child development and education from Maryknoll College in 1988. She completed her master's degree in family life and child development at the University of the Philippines-Diliman and earned her Doctor of Philosophy in Educational Management at the De La Salle Araneta University with the highest distinction. She is involved with some government and private organizations. Among these is being a member of the Technical Committee on Early Childhood Education under the Commission on Higher Education, various technical committees of the Early Childhood Care and Development Council, the Asia Pacific Regional Network for Early Childhood, the National Association for the Education of Young Children, and the Association for Childhood Education International.

Outcomes-Based Education (OBE) has become a powerful and engaging way of reforming the Philippine educational system. The highlight of OBE is the product — to develop the ideal graduates.

The Rex Book Store, Inc. tertiary textbooks are designed in compliance with the Commission on Higher Education's (CHED) requirements for OBE learning materials. The content, learning activities, and exercises aim to guide students to learn important knowledge and acquire skills to meet the CHED's prescribed competencies in specific programs.
