CHAPTER I

INTRODUCTION

The Don Severino Agricultural College is presently a symbol of hope and fulfillment to many young men and women of Cavite who dream of better life in the future. A long hard look into the fields will give one the impression that there is an adventure which seeks to free the Caviteños from the misery of economic poverty-- freedom from want and hunger. The poultry and piggery projects situated on both sides of the road going to the swimming pool will make the imagination of the enterprising pioneers or tourists to realize that the once-upon a time small farm school had been turned into a promised land by the determined hands of aggressive agriculturists and animal husbandry men. Don Severino Agricultural College, hidden as it is on the top, approximately one-sixth of a kilometer from the town proper, seems to isolate itself like a far away planet. But now, it has grown to be a progressive one. The people of
