ABSTRACT

ADVINCULA, IAN BREXNER B. , IGNACO JUSTIN MAE G. AND LUCERO ROLAN P. Assessment on the Implementation of Mamamayang Ayaw sa Anomalya, Mamamayang Ayaw sa Iligal na Droga (MASA MASID) in Selected Barangays in the Municipality of Indang, Cavite. Undergraduate Thesis, Bachelor of Science in Criminology. Cavite State University, Indang, Cavite. June 2018. Adviser: Ms. Marissa C. Lontoc PhD.

This study was conducted from November 2017 to June 2018 in selected barangays of Indang, Cavite. The participants were barangay officials and residents of Alulod, Buna Lejos, Calumpang Lejos, Guyam Malaki, and Mahabang Kahoy Cerca. The study mainly focused on the level of awareness of barangay officials and residents on the implementation of MASA MASID, extent of implementation and the degree of problem encountered by the barangay officials and residents. Furthermore, the significant relationship between the awareness and implementation were also highlighted in this study. It used descriptive correlational method of research through survey questionnaire.

Findings revealed that the participants are fully aware on the implementation of MASA MASID in terms of advocacy and reporting system. The extent of implementation of MASA MASID is highly implemented in terms of education campaign and information gathering, reporting and monitoring. The degree of problems encountered by the participants in terms of administration and operation is often. And also, there is no significant relationship between the awareness and implementation of MASA MASID program. The recommendation drawn from this study are: 1) for the DILG through the MASA MASID team, they may recruit more personnel to implement the MASA MASID program and conduct seminars in every barangay for the effectiveness of the said program 2) for the barangay officials, they can continue implementing the MASA MASID Program within their barangays to encourage and sustain community involvement that demand the accountability of the government to address the problems in illegal drugs 3) for the residents, they are suggested to participate in the MASA MASID Program to acquire skills to combat the problems in illegal drugs and to achieve a peaceful and orderly barangay and 4) the researcher also recommend to the future researcher to explore other variables about the implementation of MASA MASID program, to gain more knowledge about the said program and the benefits that it can provide in achieving good governance.
