Community and Public Health Nursing

2ND PHILIPPINE EDITION

MARY A. NIES | MELANIE McEWEN

Adapting Editor: EARL FRANCIS R. SUMILE, PH.D., R.N.

Building on the success and strengths of the first Philippine edition previously known as "Nursing Care of the Community", this second edition is now fully updated and revised based on the new standards set out in CMO no. 15 s. 2017 of the Commission on Higher Education.

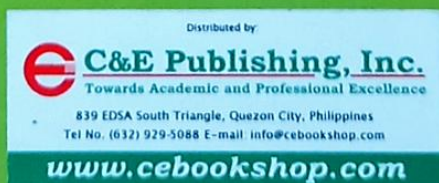

This comprehensive text has been renamed as "Community and Public Health Nursing" to reflect the addition of six new chapters in this edition on global health and emerging fields of public health nursing.

New to this edition:

- Six new chapters
 - Health: An Evolving Concept
 - Public Health Nursing and other Community Health Nursing Fields
 - Health Education and Literacy
 - Global Health and Advocating for Health Equity
 - Data Privacy in Philippine Public Health
 - Field Health Service Information System (FHSIS)
- End-of-chapter review questions (MCQ format) to reinforce understanding and facilitate preparation for the Philippine Nurse Licensure Examination (PNLE)

Key features:

- A complete textbook for Community Health Nursing I and II based on the standards set out in CMO No. 15 s. 2017 of the Commission on Higher Education and more
- Covers key issues and responsibilities in public health nursing
- Objectives and key terms introduce important concepts and terminology at the beginning of every chapter
- Dedicated chapters on Disaster Management, Information and Communications Technology, and Epidemiology.
- Trends and updates on maternal, newborn, child health, and nutrition programs/services extensively covered in the texts
- Includes a timely discussion on the COVID-19 pandemic of 2020
- Updated information on Philippine healthcare delivery system reflecting changes required by the Universal Health Care Law (Republic Act 11223)
