Notes on the Artwork by William T. Ayton 307

"This book is a remarkable achievement: bold and visionary in its conceptual framework, yet deeply human and engaging in its tone. Ayton-Shenker and her contributors have crafted a tool that policymakers, academics, and grassroots activists alike can use to forge new thinking on the global challenges we share and the opportunities for change at multiple levels."

-SHAREEN HERTEL, University of Connecticut; editor of The Journal of Human Rights

"We do not need to-do lists; we need practices, strategies, and conversations. This book provides that framework, starts the dialog, and sets priorities. For all of us interested in resilient, inclusive growth and development, this will be an important read."

—ALIX PETERSON ZWANE, CEO, Global Innovation Fund

"A sweeping look at the myriad challenges facing humanity and how people, political actors, and powerful institutions can work together to find solutions to global problems."

-JONATHAN CRISTOL, World Policy Institute

"Ideas of how the world ought to be often lack the concrete steps to realize the underlying vision. A New Global Agenda helps move past this philosophical-practical divide and turn dreams of justice, inclusion, and sustainability into policy realities."

-PETER J. HOFFMAN, The New School; author of Humanitarianism, War, and Politics

"A New Global Agenda explores the most compelling issues of our time—from entrenched poverty and looming public health threats to climate and geopolitical instability. If you are looking for inspiration about what is possible and for a challenge about what is still necessary to build a more peaceful, prosperous, and sustainable world, here is a thoughtful guide."

—ANGELLA NAZARIAN, cofounder of Visionary Women Nonprofit and founder of Angella and David Nazarian Social Innovator in Residence at Wharton School of Business

A New Global Agenda is edited by Diana Ayton-Shenker, editor and author of A Global Agenda: Issues Before the 56th General Assembly of the United Nations and A Global Agenda: Issues Before the 57th General Assembly of the United Nations.
